

SCHOOL WEBSITE

I am writing to let you all know that we are at present building our very own dance school website. The website will be a great way to find out all the latest news and any information you may have missed on the notice board.

We will be including all kinds of information on the site, such as, about the teachers, the shows, exams, community events etc and a section for you to download all the latest newsletters.

I would like to include on the site a mixture of photos from our past shows and other projects the school as been involved in. I fully understand the child protection policy and that some of you may not wish for your child to be included in the photos that will be put on the site.

We are hoping to make this part of the site password protected so that only the students can access this. However, this may take some time to set up and as we want to get the site activated ASAP, so you can all have a look and see your own dance school on the World Wide Web, we may not be able to set this up initially.

If you do not wish your child to be included on the photos please fill in the form below and return to me by Friday 9th November.

We look forward to launching the
Sarah Patrick School of Dance website
